

COMBATANT STATUS REVIEW TRIBUNAL SUMMARY

The Office for the Administrative Review of the Detention of Enemy Combatants (OARDEC) held 581 tribunals between July 30, 2004 and February 10, 2009. The tribunals determined that 539 detainees were properly classified as enemy combatants and 39 detainees were found to no longer be classified as enemy combatants.

The Secretary of Defense's February 24, 2009 memo temporarily suspended Annual Administrative Reviews for Enemy Combatants detained at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, to avoid duplicating the efforts of the review under the President's Jan. 22, 2009 Executive Order.

A summary of the tribunal statistics to date is provided below.

Year	Number of Tribunals Held	Designated Civilian Authority Final Action	Outcome
			Enemy Combatant	No Longer Enemy Combatant
2004	532	532	503	29
2005	26	26	17	9
2006	0	0	0	0
2007	14	14	14	0
2008	*7	3	3	0
2009	2	3	2	1
Aggregate	581	578	539	39

*Three of the seven tribunals held in 2008 were a "New Evidence" CSRT. One of these CSRTs was placed in suspension, following the Secretary of Defense's February 24, 2009 memo temporarily suspending Annual Administrative Reviews. A "New Evidence" CSRT is held due to receipt of new information that may affect a detainee's initial enemy combatant determination.

**The two tribunals held in 2009 were placed in suspension, following the Secretary of Defense's February 24, 2009 memo temporarily suspending Annual Administrative Reviews.
